

Halloween MadLibs

Chris Anderson

February 17, 2021

1 Madlib

It was a frightened Halloween night. As I was walking down the street, a silly monster that looked like a terrifying ogre burned out from behind a bush. ‘Argh, you tottered me!’ ‘Sorry’ said the ogre. ‘I’m in a rush to get to the broom so that I can get Halloween cat.’ He was a monster but I thought that Halloween cat sounded really good so I followed the scary monster. We ran sadly all the way down the street, through a witch and over a grave, only to find that there was no Halloween cat. It just goes to show you that you should not trust a bizarre monster on Halloween!